A new cultural hub for London

Royal Arsenal Riverside is where the worlds of everyday culture, arts and entertainment come together.

This unique combination of people and place is what makes Royal Arsenal Riverside a community experience unlike any other in London.

The parks, open spaces and riverside location are the settings for major celebrations and seasonal events – from the annual Greenwich Docklands and International Festival or the summer party to the bi-weekly farmers' market. On top of a fantastic retail, F&B and transport offering, Royal Arsenal Riverside has all bases covered.

Photography at Royal Arsenal Riverside.

Photography of event at Royal Arsenal Riverside

Experience Woolwich Works

ROYAL borough of GREENWICH

Woolwich Works is a new landmark cultural district for London set to rival the South Bank. The 15,000m² site is now home to a number of local, national and internationally-renowned resident artistic companies.

Photography of Woolwich Works comedy night

Time Out

BEST NEW CULTURE SPOT AWARD WINNER 2021

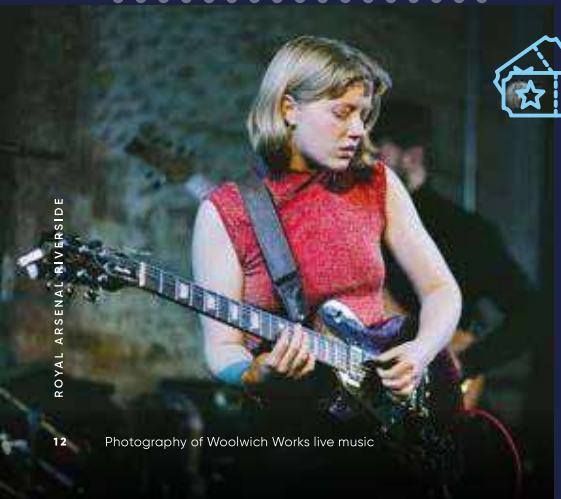
Photography of Woolwich Works opening



Photography of Woolwich Works live music

Experience more than just a place to live

With world-class art, drama, dance, music, festivals and exhibitions throughout the year, there is always a cultural draw to the area. Within Woolwich Works, the acclaimed immersive theatre company, Punchdrunk has set up its permenant home. Punchdrunk stages hugely popular productions where audience members are free to wander around and take part in the shows. The current show, 'The Burnt City,' is drawing huge crowds for every performance.

Woolwich Works and Punchdrunk bring in local, national and international audiences to Royal Arsenal Riverside, especially during the evenings and weekends, increasing footfall to the area and, therefore, the need for a variety of retail and F&B options on-site.

WOOLWICH WORKS

punchdrunk

Photography of Woolwich Works live music