PENNTHORPE SCHOOL

At Pennthorpe, children are uniquely valued for who they are, and for their individual strengths and passions. Whether in maths or textiles, cello or rugby, all skills are celebrated – everybody is somebody at Pennthorpe.

Children are deeply involved in their learning, demonstrated by their enthusiasm, their desire to learn new things and take risks, and their willingness to be in the driving seat of their own destiny. Children take responsibility for who, and what, they are becoming, in addition to who they aspire to be.

CHRIST'S HOSPITAL SCHOOL

Christ's Hospital prides itself on delivering a vibrant curriculum that has both challenge and opportunity at its heart. The CH curriculum is made up of three interwoven parts: a stimulating academic curriculum which covers everything inside the classroom; an extensive broader curriculum which encapsulates everything outside the classroom; and a pastoral curriculum which has deep roots in the boarding house system complemented by a dynamic learning for life programme which teaches personal development. All three complement and support the progress of our pupils at every stage.

The School's diverse curriculum encourages life-skills and is devised to take the pupils out of their comfort zone. An enormous range of Music, Art, Drama, Sport, and outward-bound activity is offered, including the Duke of Edinburgh's Award, Young Enterprise, Model United Nations, chess, debating, public speaking and so many more.

PORTSMOUTH UNIVERSITY

Portsmouth University exists to be a world-class university; one that makes a difference to the world, through transformational education, research and innovation. But to do great things, it takes more than good intentions. Three things tie together their plan for the future: their ambitious mission, their vision for bringing it to life, and the values that define the way they work, collaborate and behave.

They have already made giant leaps towards these goals – by developing their campus and becoming a more sustainable university.

Both their Vision and Strategy are ambitious – and with good reason. They are on the rise. In 2017, they were awarded TEF Gold – the highest rating for teaching quality. In 2019, they were awarded £5.8 million by Research England to develop their plastics research – the largest single research award in the University's history. They are a top 30 university for student satisfaction, and many of the courses have 100% satisfaction scores (NSS, 2020). They continue to be a desirable destination for students.
