St Edward’s Kensington Collection will offer a magnificent collection of apartments designed for the luxury London lifestyle.

Located in the Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea, one of London’s most prestigious neighbourhoods and the perfect address for enjoying London life to the upmost.

Some of the Capital’s most famous cultural attractions, restaurants and bars are close at hand, as well as an array of luxury shops, parks and concert halls. With many options a short stroll away, Kensington is a truly desirable address from which to discover the very best of what London has to offer.

This local guide is merely an introduction to the prestigious Kensington area, where there is always something new and interesting waiting to be revealed amongst the historical greats and local institutions.
AT YOUR SERVICE

Residents will have the immeasurable benefit of a 24 hour concierge, providing a level of front desk service one would expect at a five-star hotel, and combining the efficiency, integrity and discretion needed to meet the demands of your lifestyle.

Making the most of life in London can depend on effective time management and the concierge can offer invaluable help in such matters as purchasing tickets, making reservations and travel arrangements, booking taxis, taking in deliveries of goods and services, or sourcing professionals such as interior designers, personal trainers or caterers.
THE MOST PRIVATE OF PRIVATE HEALTH CLUBS

Residents have an unrivalled selection of facilities in the private leisure suite. For maintaining personal fitness there is a gym, lap pool, vitality pool, male and female changing facilities, treatment room and breakout space: the most private of private health clubs.
EXCLUSIVELY FOR RESIDENTS

At the private cinema, residents can watch their chosen movies or other video entertainment in comfort. The facility has luxurious seating and state of the art audio-visual technology for maximum enjoyment.
KENSINGTON IN A GLASS

The pubs and bars around Kensington represent every possible way to enjoy a sociable drink. There are bars for fine wine aficionados, for lovers of jazz and piano music, for romance, fun or conversation, and bars simply for a relaxing drink with friends. More conventionally, Kensington has numerous welcoming traditional pubs, many of which also serve highly praised gastro-pub food.

The Kensington Roof Gardens offer the rare opportunity to see live flamingos while you sip your glass of wine 100 feet above Kensington High Street.

“KENSINGTON’S ROOF GARDENS ARE AMONG LONDON’S MOST GLORIOUS FOLLIES. COMPLETE WITH FOUR FLAMINGOS AND AN AIR FLEET OF RESIDENT DUCKS.”

A WORLD OF DINING

Some of London’s finest restaurants are located just a short distance from The Kensington Collection, including three with Michelin Star ratings; Kitchen W8 and Launceston Place with one star and the Ledbury with two.

Many other venues on the Kensington dining scene have been established for decades and have a loyal local clientele. Clarke’s, Kensington Place and Maggie Jones’s are all well respected Kensington institutions with a long history.

In recent years a more contemporary group have emerged with diverse menus. Richard Branson’s Babylon at the Roof Gardens, Mazi, Whit’s and Zaika are making names for themselves, reflecting the multi-national and sophisticated population in Kensington.
There is no sincerer love than the love of food.

LONDON, THE DINING CAPITAL

“London is the most important city in the world for restaurants” revered French chef Alain Ducasse has said. Most residents and visitors to the capital would agree that no other city has such a variety of cuisine, style and service when it comes to dining out. It means there is an ever changing menu of new experiences for the dedicated gastronome to try, in a city where over sixty restaurants have Michelin star status.
CAFE SOCIETY

Whether you crave a vital shot of espresso in the morning, a leisurely breakfast or a celebratory afternoon tea, the many coffee shops and cafes in and around Kensington will deliver.

There are many independently owned cafes where you can enjoy something a little different whether it be home-cooked style or decadently luscious. From traditional English high tea to Arabic coffees, continental patisserie to organic juices, a quick lunchtime sandwich to a lazy Sunday brunch, it is easy to find just what you are looking for.

“COFFEE, THE FAVOURITE DRINK OF THE CIVILISED WORLD.”
Thomas Jefferson
The Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea includes several cultural venues of international stature within its boundaries. For residents, this means that world class musical performances, exhibitions and collections are never far away.

The magnificent Royal Albert Hall and the huge South Kensington Museums are globally famous. However Kensington also includes some less well known, but still fascinating, places where more specialised culture and history can be explored.

“PLAYING THE ROYAL ALBERT HALL IS LIKE WALKING INTO MY FRONT ROOM.”

Eric Clapton, who has performed there almost 200 times since 1964

London’s thriving cultural life draws visitors from across the globe, but Londoners are lucky enough to be able to dip into it whenever they wish. Three of the world’s top ten most visited museums and galleries are in the Capital, and London has some impressive venues where world class musical performers can take the stage. Added to this, London has ballet, contemporary dance, nightlife, Royal heritage, and iconic buildings old and new.

A VERY CULTURED CITY
SHOPPING IN STYLE

London has a plethora of fabulous shops, with two of the best a short distance away. Harrods is arguably the most famous department store in the world, and Harvey Nichols (known affectionately as ‘Harvey Nicks’) has attained iconic status in the fashion world. The world’s leading designer brands cluster around Sloane Street, Knightsbridge and Brompton Road; all just as conveniently close.

Nearer to home, Kensington High Street and Kensington Church Street offer hundreds of smaller shops, stocking items from everyday necessities to indulgent luxuries.

Kensington Church Street is particularly known for antiques dealers and private galleries where enticing and expensive treasures can be found. You are more likely to find a bargain amongst the 1,000 dealers in Portobello Road, the world’s largest antiques market.

“WHOEVER SAID MONEY CAN’T BUY HAPPINESS SIMPLY DIDN’T KNOW WHERE TO GO SHOPPING.”

Bo Derek

RELAX
RELAX AND UNWIND

Every city dweller needs a place to relax, unwind and de-stress. In Kensington you will soon discover many exclusive facilities for health, beauty, pampering and fitness.

Whether you want to compete on the tennis court, try out a wellness centre or just simply relax in a luxurious salon or spa, the facilities you need are only a short distance away.
HOLLAND PARK TENNIS

Holland Park Lawn Tennis Club has five all-weather floodlit courts and three grass courts, as well as a beautiful clubhouse in a former mansion. The Evening Standard recently rated it number one in the central London area, in a “Best Tennis Courts in London” feature.
NATURE
GREEN KENSINGTON

With parks covering an area over 15,000 hectares, London is the greenest city of its size in the world.

As well as two Royal Parks – Hyde Park and Kensington Gardens – the Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea also has the 22.5 hectare Holland Park, considered one of the most romantic and peaceful parks of West London.

In addition, there are little public gardens and larger historic gardens well worth seeking out. All offer vital space to relax and enjoy natural surroundings in the heart of the city.
“IT CAME TO ME THAT HYDE PARK HAS NEVER BELONGED TO LONDON. THAT IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN, IN SPIRIT, A STRETCH OF COUNTRYSIDE; AND THAT IT LINKS THE LONDON’S OF ALL PERIODS TOGETHER MOST MAGICALLY, BY REMAINING FOREVER UNCHANGED AT THE HEART OF A EVER-CHANGING TOWN.”

Dodie Smith, I Capture the Castle
EDUCATE
London’s renowned schools and universities mean that it is increasingly the city of choice for education, attracting many students from overseas.

Three of the Capital’s universities are in the top twenty of the 2013 World University Rankings: University College, Imperial College and Kings College.

The central location of The Kensington Collection means that many of these highly regarded private schools, colleges and universities can be reached easily by car or public transport.
